CORPORATE INCOME TAX INCREASE DISCUSSION

The discussion to increase the corporate income tax continues in Washington. President Biden proposed increasing corporate taxes to pay for his infrastructure plan to fund his $2.25 trillion American Jobs Plan by partially rolling back the 2017 corporate tax cut under former President Donald Trump that lowered the rate from 35 percent to 21 percent. Biden originally proposed raising the tax to 28% but that percentage has caught push back, so the President seems to be willing to negotiate on 28% and has fallen back to the 25% range. The business community has mixed reviews on this plan plus Republicans in Congress are pushing back, criticizing it as too costly and too broad in scope. Most people agree that it is imperative that the nation's infrastructure be upgraded. But Biden's plan, like most policy proposals in America's deeply partisan landscape, has staunch supporters and loud critics.

BUDGET®
BLINDS

They have you covered!

Paul & LuShaun Curtis
Budget Blinds
of Concordia/Blue Springs

Lynne Baker
Business to Education Connector

It was my pleasure to spend a recent morning with Paul and LuShaun Curtis, who are the franchise owners of Budget Blinds of Concordia/ Blue Springs. Due to Paul's twenty-two year military service career in the Air Force, LuShaun and Paul, with their seven children, have traveled extensively around the world.

Paul and LuShaun researched franchises and found Budget Blinds to be a highly rated company. LuShaun has extensive experience in sewing and creating draperies and other textile originals, thus, she believed it was a natural transfer of her gifted abilities. Budget Blinds of Concordia/ Blue Springs works on a "territory basis", including Concordia, where they live, extending to Blue Springs. That area belongs to their franchise, however Independence is an area, which is open territory and they stated they have enjoyed doing quite a bit of business in our city. We are pleased they have chosen to be members of our Chamber!

One of the aspects of Budget Blinds of Concordia/Blue Springs, which Paul and LuShaun believes sets their company apart, is the additional warranty that is given when Budget Blinds are purchased. A five years, no questions asked, replacement set of blinds can be given, without additional cost, one time in that five-year time period. The Curtis's are also proud to have Abigail Cool, working along side of them, as a Sales Consultant. Abigail has been a part of their business from the beginning and is a vital partner in their work, especially in creating beautiful draperies.

I learned that Budget Blinds is not just about blinds, but also has other services available, including shutters, draperies, area rugs and bedding. I so enjoyed learning that Paul and LuShaun are motivated by serving their customers, in the best way possible. Paul told me, "One of the joys of this business is to meet some very beautiful people. Some people we can help, some we cannot. But meeting new people has been a tremendous pleasure of this job." I would add, meeting Paul and LuShaun was a lovely experience for me, as well!
