Walking into Pickens Sweet Treats on the Independence Square is entering a chocolate heaven. You are swept up in viewing the beautifully decorated Easter Baskets, specially designed bunnies, lovely chocolate candies displayed in a perfect setting and my favorite...cookies! The Pickens sisters, Natalie and Nanette, arrived in Independence by a very circuitous route, but are so very pleased to now be a part of our warm and welcoming community.

Natalie and Nanette were born into a very special family. Their father was an LA Police Officer and their mom was raising six children, three girls and three boys, but an entrepreneur, as well. She made and sold candy at craft fairs and doctors’ offices. Together, they believe their parents gave them the strong foundation for life...teaching them to be hard-working, independent thinkers with integrity and honesty. The sisters have used their families teachings to guide them throughout their lifetime. The Pickens family grew up in Huntington Beach, California, however, when their Dad retired, he wanted to find a place where there was lower crime and lower taxes. He researched and visited five cities and states which were potential new homes. The Pickens Family settled in Warsaw, MO in 1991. Their parents had raised their six children, with a strong sense of supporting and caring for each other. “Look around the table, these are the best friends you will have in your life” was a statement and a goal the parents wanted to pass on to their children.

Natalie and Nanette found initial life goals in two different directions. Their parents invested in a Subway franchise, making Natalie the youngest franchise owner in Subway history...she was 18 years old at the time. Nanette attended BYU, with a declared major in Communication and Broadcasting, but she knew that career wasn't for her. Thus, to make a living, Nanette began working in restaurants, waiting tables, but moved up to becoming a store manager for Einstein Bagels. She called Natalie to join her in Utah and soon both sisters were employed by Einstein Bagels. Natalie became the Vice-President of Operations and Training and Nanette was a Director of Operations. In 2015, Einstein Bagels were sold and many upper management positions were eliminated. The sisters had moved to the Kansas City area to be near their parents and brothers. As their parent's health declined, the sisters became the main caretakers for their parents...continuing the theme of their parent's teaching: "Family comes first!". Following family tradition, two of their brothers are KCPD police officers. While caring for their parents, their Dad reminded the sisters, "Everybody loves chocolate. You girls need to open a candy store." The sisters continue to use some of their mom's recipes and her molds for candy making.

Family comes first

Starting part-time at the Ennovation Center in Independence, Natalie and Nanette began taking small steps in building their new business. Because of the Ennovation Center structure, they were able to make Pickens Sweet Treats viable. The sisters were able to grow from a seasonal, hourly side business to full-time year round entrepreneurs! On December 1, 2023, Pickens Sweet Treats found a new home on the Square. With the help of the Chamber's own Jodi Krantz, they located the perfect spot. The sisters immediately knew...this spot was meant to be their new store! In an ironic twist, they are located in a store front which served the ISD student store and their first wholesale order was received from the Independence School District.

Natalie and Nanette are so excited to have received such a warm and appreciative welcoming to Independence. They stated their business has received such strong support from the Independence Chamber and the Independence Square Association! The sisters believe their business, as well as themselves, have received such a delightful and appreciative reception, it is "like a big hug".

Natalie and Nanette were quick to give their appreciation to Jodi Krantz, Vice President of Economic Development, Xander Winkel, the former manager of the Ennovation Center, as well as our amazing Independence community. Natalie and Nanette are all you would hope to find in new business owners in Independence. Warm, inviting and kind, following the important teachings of their parents, and bringing fabulous and delicious sweet treats to our Independence Square. The chocolate goodies are divine.

I purchased some of their bunny sticks for my friend and her companions at a local senior care center. These ladies were thrilled because they were given a unique, lovely decorated, wonderful tasting chocolate treat. That is the way I felt, upon leaving Pickens Sweet Treats, it had given me a delightful start to my day, so very welcoming me to their store and I too, felt
